

Qualified Architect and Technologists

Closing date: 26th May 2017

The Role

We require several high calibre qualified Architects (design & technical) and Technologists to join our Dublin studio to support a range of projects throughout Ireland.

About You

We are looking for organised individuals with excellent people skills who are able to communicate at all levels. Applicants should have a passion for sustainable architectural design and have design, detail and contract experience across one or more of our key sectors.

The successful candidates will require to:

- Be on the RIAI Register of Architects or technicians / person eligible to seek registration as an architect or technician without further assessment, or ARB registered, ideally with a minimum of 5 years Post Part 3 experience.
- Have relevant cross sector experience in design development, detailing and job running;
- Have excellent CAD, Photoshop and Indesign skills;
- Have excellent verbal and written communication skills.

As one of the first BRE accredited BIM practices in Ireland, a 'REVIT Certified Professional' qualification is desirable but not essential (as Revit training will be given to successful candidates).

BDP Offers

In return, BDP offers an excellent opportunity for your personal development as well as an attractive remuneration package that includes a competitive salary and a great working environment.
